

I am very much opposed to FCC weakening Wisconsin's No Call program. It is a very important and much needed program to help protect all Wisconsin consumers from harassing and pushy telemarketers. The program has been effective(it has cut down on the number of calls I receive at my home considerably). Anyone who enjoys the constant calling of telemarketers can receive calls by not registering for the No Call, but people like myself who don't want to be bothered appreciate the No Call program. Wisconsin is a strong leader for Consumer Protection; let's keep it that way!!
